Course description
Studying a country's economic and foreign policies is almost impossible without understanding the features of globalisation and dynamic geopolitics. This course will discuss the issues surrounding globalisation, and geopolitical and security challenges from an Indian perspective, and their implications on the economic and foreign policies. It will provide an understanding of how international agreements and institutions have been shaping up due to political, technological, and economic forces. The role of India as well as the shrinking policy space at the national level will also be discussed. The discussions on how ethics and equity can be mainstreamed into international law and global institutions will form an important part of the course. This course comprises four modules: the first module discusses the fundamentals of globalization, industrialization, international trade systems, and the learnings from global financial crises; the second module focuses on the Indian economy's transition in the globalizing world; the third module provides the basics of geopolitics and international relations issues in the contemporary world; and the fourth module focuses on India's international relations and foreign policy.
Learning objectives:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To provide students with a basic understanding of the process of globalisation, the related institutional structure, and their implications on the Indian economy and associated policies. • To orient students to critically understand the global geopolitics including security concerns from an Indian perspective and how India has been shaping the global discourse and institutions.
